Mr. Boulton, for the defence, asked for a postponement on the ground that the senior coursel, Mr.
Jenks, was absent in the defence of a marder trial in Westchester country. Mr. Boulton said tout ne himself had made no preparation, as Mr. Jenks was conducting all these cases. Furthermore, wr. Boulton stated that he had been up for two nights with a sick child and was in no condition to proceed with any of the cases. any of the cases.

The District Attorney desired it to be understood that he was ready at any time.

Judge Fratt consulted with his associates, and finally amounced that all the cases would go over for the term, which concludes this week.

Revival of Business in the South.

Revival of Rusiness in the South.

[From the Richmond Whig, March 28.]

The spring trade cannot yet be said to be in full blast in this city. The season is everywhere unusually backward. Where has unduly protonged fixelf, giving us some of its most declared demonstrations in March. But our merchants have for some time been prejaring for the spring trade, and some of the largest houses have received and arranged their goods and are now ready to supply both country and city customers. Those who have not received their supplies have ordered them, and will seen be ready for cans. There are great numbers who, either from narrow means or to avoid the uncertainties of trade, habitually send small orders to the large Northern houses. They purchase according to the means in hand, or to the daily demands of customers. They seldon have large stocks on hand, but they have enough, and in sufficient variety, to satisfy the calls upon them. Many of this class purchase their supplies from the large windensie houses in this city, thus saving the trouble and incongenience of going or sending North. The great ciching and furnishing houses in this city and the milimery and manual paking establishments will soon be overrue by quistomers from town and country. The clegant dry goods and fancy establishments with which our city abounds will be througed by the ladles eager for the lazest fushions. We have no doubt that the trade of Ricamond will be larger this apring than it has been since the war. The stiting of the Legisla-ture will draw crowds here from all parts of the Stale, and almost every visitor will avail himself of the opportunity to lay in supplies for home. Every branch of business will receive an encouraging stimulus. Those who are most liberal in adver-tising will be most encouraged. The must diligent readers of advertisements are country people, who want to know where to call for the articles they need.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

Senator Spencar's Bill to Save Money By

The following is a comparative statement show in the navy, under the present organization, and under the provisions of the bill introduced in the United States Senate, on the lith inst., by Hon. George E. Spencer, of Alabama, and which was referred to the Committee on Navai Affairs:-

the addition of 23% per cent to all except midskip men's pay, the sum aggregating $595,080 for sea duty and $478,900 for shore duty, the whole making a grand total of $2.54.,920 for sea, and $2,108,200 for shore duty. By the provisions of Mr. Spencer's bill a grand total of $2.55., $20 for sea, and $2, 105.200 for shore duty. By the provisions of Mr. Spencer's bill the grand total for the first will be $1.841,400, thus effecting a saving of $719,529, while for shore duty the amount wit aggregate $1.514,200, or a saving of $504.000 from the Shiaries paid at present.

It will be remarked in the statement, however, that the proposed saving is not bronght about by reduction of shiaries, but wholly by reduction of the number of officers employed in the navai service. While the salaries of rear-admirals remain unchanged their number is reduced from ten of five. The salaries of commodores and captains remain the same, but their number are reduced from 25 to 12 of the first, and from 50 to 40 of the last. In like manner the number of commanders from 160 to 100, and actum midshipmen from 268 to 250, while the bosition of graduated midshipman is aboushed entirely. As regards hettenants the number is increased from 180 to 200, but they, as with all the others are to receive the same salaries as under the present organization.

It will thus be seen that of the 1,233 line officers in the navy, it is proposed to zet rid of 351, leaving the number set. In what manner Mr. Spencer proposes the discharge of so many great and efficient men it is unificant to conceive. Besides, we have yet to learn that there are so many officers in the United States naval service that the country should feel the slightest desire to dismiss any of them.

Movements of United States Vessels.

Movements of United States Vessels. The United States steamers Resaca and Nyack and the storeship Onward were at Callao, Peru, on the 27th of February. Admiral Turner was expected there on board the Saranae, from San Francisco, and would remain at Caliso unto the arrival of the fineship Guerriere from the Atlantic.

The United States steamer Karsarge was at Valpura'so on the 17th of February.

THE STOCK MARKET STRONG AND DULL. The stock market was extremely duil. In the fore noon the radways were heavy, particularly the Vanderbilt shares, which seem to flag with the waning chances of the Commodore in the litigation in the Supreme Court. The miscellaneous list, on the contrary, was strong in Pacific Mail and Western Union, the former advancing to 33. It seemed to lead the list in later transactions, and the market on light dealings became strong and advanced from a quarter to a half per cent, the feature in the railways in this improved feeling being Reading, watch rose to 97 %. fiere Pacific Mail became beavy and fell off to 32%, the general list being steady, with continued weakness in the Vanderoilt shares, which were lowes, at the close. Rock Island declined to 118% as a furday. New Jersey Central was unsettled under the apprehensions of an issue of stock to absorb certain lines between Erizabeth and Newark and Newark and Jersey City. St. Paul was strong and rather active. AN ACT OF JUSTICE.—The article in the April Patriam entitled "The American Doctrine of Neutrality" is generally credited by the press to Parke Godwin, the new editor of teat magazine. White the real author will modoubtedly consider the error a compliment to his ability, it is but anget of journalistic fair play, which Sr. Godwin will commend, that the truth should be known—that the article 4n question was written by Major J. M. Bundy, editor of the Eccuting Matt.
